'GEAR' IS NEEDED TO CONDUCT WAR

Says Men Do Splendid Deeds, but 'Things' Make Those Deeds Possible.

APPEALS TO BRITAINS

Says Early Success of Germany Due to Country Being Prepared with Every Sort of Supplies.

By H. C. WELLS.

The Times, London, Oct. 6.—This is a war, not only of men, but of things. Things also go to war. Men do splendid deeds, but it is things that make their deeds possible, and we shall misunderstand this struggle completely, and much that lies before us in this struggle if we let ourselves suppose that it needs only a coup de main on the part of the men to recruiting.

A greater need is for gear, hoardings, taxicabs, the postoffice and newspaper clamor, "Your King and country need you," to every able-bodied man. Much more is that true of every warm blanket, every overcoat, every flannel shirt, every stout pair of boots or socks, every service revolver, every pound note in our pockets. Much more for recruits to offer themselves abundantly, but gear has to be made, and got together and bought and sold, and that is the real struggle.

I doubt if the people have begun to reckon on the strain of that, or of how much they may serve their country by enlisting their property and their possessions.

Successes Due to Gear.

For let there be no mistake about the opening stages of this war. All the initial successes of Germany were due to gear. In artillery and in the transport every sort of supply, Germany was overwhelmingly at the advantage, and the great march, that came so early, was far more a triumph of boots and three than of men. Germany was at the outset also enormously superior in the number of her flying machines. I have pointed this out and expressed my conviction that the German makes so inferior an aviator to the Englishman or Frenchman that ultimately these latter would "bully the German out of the sky."

This is already happening. The first news of the British victory from Gen. French confirmed my very obvious remarks in a previous article about the need for a larger supply of these most important weapons and my conclusions upon the recent energy of our aviation wing.

Germany and Russia Equipped.

In this war of material it is Germany and Russia only that seem to have been fully equipped for a struggle of the magnitude of the present war. Russia had her surplus and learned her lesson from Japan in 1904. When the Kaiser donated his shining armor on behalf of Austria the Russian armor gleamed even brighter than the German. It is astonishingly new and complete. The last button indeed, most admirably for the expeditionary force and with our Indian army. Germany also prepared to run the side of our national duty. I dare not write about our British manhood at war except to say that I am proud to be English. But we must now justify our claim to be the factory of the world. We must show our ability to put flannel shirts by the million, right weapons, warproof, boots, rifles, and ammunition into the battle line. That is not, perhaps, so glorious a task as ruling all the seas, but it is equally essential to victory.

No doubt Germans on their side are pouring out supplies from 10,000 busy workshops, but with our uninvited guests we shall beat them at that. They are also making all sorts of guns and queer war engines at those mighty works at Essen.

Will Make Bigger Guns.

The Germans will also try to make bigger and bigger guns, and I suspect they will build up their guns on vast peddles wheels to go over soft ground and so convert them into skid-like treads. They are also probably turning all the River Rhine banks, from Bonn to the vicinity of a diabolical network of traps and obstacles against future attacks by allied armies, which they fancy. Incidentally they are using up no end of stuff, but we have to reckon with this German passion for war. We have to keep pace with Essen. Now we have not only to keep pace with Essen, but as soon as possible we have to get at Essen and smash up Essen forever.

Westphalia, and not Berlin is the vital target in this western war on material, for it is at this center of manufacture and not at the center of government, that an hostile army must strike to end the war.

CHILDREN SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach or Bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of colic or has sore throat or any other children's ailments, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. It is time all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness. Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 5-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

Germany Supplies Turkey With Material for War

Athens, Oct. 6.—According to trustworthy advice received from Constantinople four huge Howitzers, said to be of the famous forty-two centimeter model, have arrived from Germany and have been sent through the Dardanelles in German merchantmen requisitioned for the purpose, together with 100,000 long of ammunition and other war material.

The Roumanian government, it is believed, has detained further supplies of rifles and cartridges on the way to Turkey.

SHIP IN U. S. WATERS

IS ORDERED TO HALT

British Cruiser Fires Shot Across Bow of Steamer Katie Within Three-mile Limit.

New York, Oct. 6.—A shot from a British cruiser, believed to be the Britannia, was fired across the bow of the steamer Katie, a Norwegian banana carrier, off Scotland last night. The Katie was within the three-mile limit.

The action of the cruiser followed the refusal of the Katie's commander to heed the half order, knowing he was only about a mile off shore.

Firing at a boat in American waters is a direct violation.

staff and that the lack of continuity in the German campaign is due to the nervous, irresponsible actions of the Emperor.

In Galicia a large force of Cossacks have engaged the Russian army, which is retreating across the frontier. The bombardment of Przemyśl continues. The garrison is stubbornly resisting the Russian besiegers, who have cut off the railroads to the fortress without sacrificing vast numbers of men.

The daring raids of the Cossacks in Hungary are spreading terror among the people there. One company reached a point ninety miles from Budapest, but retired after cutting telegraph and telephone lines and tearing up the railroads.

German Losses Siege Artillery.

Paris, Oct. 6.—Telegraphing from Petrograd, a correspondent of the Temps says that in the retreat across the Niemen the Germans lost 130 guns and all siege artillery. Their heavy Howitzers were abandoned before Osovietz.

"Following the admission of Jewish officers to the army and navy," the dispatch continues, "the Czar is about to annul other important restrictions against the Jewish community and give them equal rights with other Russians. Liberal measures on behalf of the Finns are also being prepared."

CONGRESS IN BRIEF.

SENATE.

The Democratic caucus of the Senate was in session all day discussing the war tax bill. Amendments increasing the tax on beer, eliminating the tax on gasoline and "half" cap were offered. It is expected the caucus will be busy until late tonight.

The Banking and Currency Committee heard the members of Congress from the cotton-growing States and officials of the Farmers' Union in support of the Sheppard bill for Federal aid to the cotton producers.

The Senate was not in session. It will meet today at noon.

HOUSE.

Debate on the Philippine Independence bill was continued in the House today. A vote on the bill is expected late this week.

Unanimous consent agreement was reached to take up today the conference report on the Clayton anti-trust bill and to resume debate on the tariff discussion. The House agreed to meet one hour earlier to expedite consideration.

Representative Stenerson, of Minnesota, offered a resolution inquiring whether the members of Congress from the cotton-growing States and officials of the Farmers' Union in support of the Sheppard bill for Federal aid to the cotton producers.

The House adjourned until 11 o'clock today.

NO STOMACH PAIN, GAS, INDIGESTION, IN FIVE MINUTES

"Pape's Dispepsin" Is the Only Real Stomach Regulator Known.

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order. "Really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn, and sourness in five minutes—that's just that—makes Pape's Dispepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stomach lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Dispepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Dispepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, upset, stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest, and most harmless stomach regulator in the world.—Adv.

HUGH T. TAGGART DEAD; NOTED CAREER ENDED

Retired Lawyer and Official, Who Figured at Trial of Guiteau, Dies at Age of Seventy-one.

BAR WILL ATTEND FUNERAL

Hugh T. Taggart, a retired Washington lawyer, died of the infirmities of old age last night at his residence, 2148 N. street. He had been ill a long time, but had been confined to his home only a few weeks. He was in his seventy-first year.

Mr. Taggart was born in Baltimore County, Md., and was educated in the public schools there and in Georgia. He took his law degree at Columbian University and was admitted to the District bar in 1889. He was an Assistant United States Attorney here for about twenty years and figured in the trial of Guiteau, President Garfield's assassin. For several years he lectured on criminal law at the Georgetown Law School, and at the time of his death, although retired, was chairman of the board of examiners of applicants for admission to the bar.

For three years he was president of the District Bar Association. He retired from active practice about seven years ago. Mr. Taggart was at one time president of the Columbia Historical Society, was a member of the National Academy of Sciences and contributing editor to the American Catholic Historical Register.

His wife, Mrs. Anna Jackson Taggart, four sons and five daughters survive. They are Richard J. Taggart, attorney; George R. Taggart, assistant corporation counsel, assigned to the police court; William L. Taggart, Paul D. Taggart, Isabelle, Etta Louise and Anna M. Taggart. Mrs. Sankey W. Baron and Mrs. Ralph H. Dabson.

The District Bar Association will be represented at the funeral, arrangements for which have not been completed. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

New Training Ground For Canadian Troops

Ottawa, Oct. 6.—A new training ground for Canadian troops will be created on Vancouver Island. Weather conditions there permit training to continue all winter.

Greece Opposed to Turkey Raising Her Customs Rates

Athens, Oct. 6.—The Greek foreign office announced today that it would refuse to sanction Turkey's abolition of customs rates, but stated it would consent to a revision.

"DRY" MAKE SLIGHT GAIN IN CONNECTICUT ELECTION

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 6.—The "dry" sawed towns and a portion of another in yesterday's vote on the license question in Connecticut. Griswold changing from "dry" to "wet" and having no vote, and the Stony Creek district of Branford changing from "wet" to "dry."

Of the forty-two towns in which petition for a vote on license had been circulated, only forty-one voted. Torrington not voting. Thirty towns voted for license and eleven for "dry."

each attempt was met with a volley of bullets that drove the aviators to flight. King Albert has received personal messages from King George of England, President Poincaré of France and Czar Nicholas of Russia, congratulating him upon the valor shown by the Belgian troops and declaring that their operations have been of vast help in carrying out the campaign plans of the allies.

Russia also has transmitted to the Belgian Parliament through Premier de Broqueville the following advice:

Princes "Belgian Lion."

"Russia is following with unbounded admiration the heroic and valorous struggle of the Belgian army against a cruel and implacable enemy. It is with most profound sympathy that we receive news of the incredible sacrifice of the brave Belgian people.

"Your exploits are the heroic deeds of your ancestors. You have won eternal glory by shattering the assault of the invincible German hordes. Long live the brave Belgian Lion and may your device 'union makes strength' triumph.

"It will then be on the ruins of the insatiable edifice which was to be the memorial of universal German Hegemony that shall see the rule of liberty, equality and fraternity established."

Reports were current last night that King Albert had overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn, and sourness in five minutes—that's just that—makes Pape's Dispepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. ## BURLESON ORDERS SHAKE-UPS

Reorganization of Postoffice Staffs Affects Many Cities.

Plans for reorganization of postoffice staffs in a score of large cities, with resultant shakeups in personnel, to discharge postmasters of all except functions and put experienced men in charge of the direct work of handling the mails were announced yesterday by the Postmaster General, effective first at Cleveland.

The office of assistant postmaster may be abolished in some cities, as was recently done here.

The new plans call for the creation of separate finance and mail handling divisions in each office. The postmasters' picture will not have any duties directly affecting handling of the mails, but will be confined to purely executive functions. The offices to be effected are Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston, Minneapolis, St. Louis, San Francisco, Detroit, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Indianapolis, Atlanta, New Orleans, Louisville, Portland, Ore., Seattle, Richmond, Nashville, Spokane, Jacksonville, Salt Lake City and Little Rock.

for the protection of British and Japanese commerce. It was stated that a few German cruisers for some time have been playing havoc with both Japanese and British commerce in the Pacific, and the belief of the British and Japanese governments has been that the enemy's cruisers were using Jaluit as a base of operations.

Should the island remain in Japanese possession after the war, however, it is conceded that the United States will have a proper cause to make inquiry as to Japan's intentions and call to her attention her previous statements.

Attitude of Australia.

The interest of Great Britain in this situation is recognized as so closely akin to that of the United States that it is felt here that this government need not have even the slightest apprehension, even though Japan might wish to hold
